DeGaulle Calls Algerian Leader Up on Carpet

PARIS (AP) — Premier Charles de Gaulle called Jacques Soustelle on the carpet today in another show of his determination not to let the colonists in Algeria dictate how he runs France.

Soustelle is the political front man for the insurgent movement of army officers and French settlers who banded together in committees of public safety to keep Algeria under French control.

De Gaulle wants the Moslem majority to have a full voice in running France's North African territory.

The committees inspired and directed wild demonstrations in Algeria which hoisted De Gaulle to power. But he is now trying to make them take the same vacation from politics he ordered for the National Assembly.

The premier called Soustelle back from Algeria after the military-civilian committee there demanded that De Gaulle kick party politicians out of his cabinet and delay the Algerian municipal elections he promised about a month ago.

Colorado Fights Hopper Horde

White House Denies Disaster Area Status

DENVER (AP) — Colorado launched an attack against grasshopper hordes today, but Gov. Steve McNichols warned the action can be only a limited one unless large-scale federal aid is thrown into the fight.

The funds are needed, he said, to protect the $110 million wheat crop ripening on the high plains of eastern Colorado and for the hay crop needed to carry cattle through next winter.

Turned down by the White House Wednesday in an effort to have the region declared a disaster area eligible for civil defense funds, McNichols said he will appeal to the U. S. Department of Agriculture for part of $14 million available for emergencies under the agricultural conservation program.

Wilton B. Persons, deputy assistant to President Eisenhower, informed McNichols of the White House decision. Persons said Eisenhower has ordered that all assistance available through the Agriculture Department be extended to Colorado, Kansas and neighboring areas.

PERSONS SAID in telegrams to McNichols and Gov. George Docking of Kansas that a federal survey of the grasshopper threat has been completed.

McNichols announced he will ask the Colorado Legislature, when it meets Monday in emergency session, to appropriate up to $1½ million for the struggle with the hoppers. This apparently would wipe out the surplus in the state's general fund.

Paul W. Swisher, state agriculture commissioner, reported the hopper infestation now covers more than 10 million acres.

The state agriculture department announced the start of a range spraying program, with five two-engine planes flying out of Cheyenne Wells, in east-central Colorado. It said nearly 500,000 acres will be covered in this cooperative venture at a cost of about 60 cents an acre.

Senate Opens Debate on Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today opened a politically charged debate on the most comprehensive labor bill to reach it since the Taft-Hartley Act became law in 1947.

It is designed to curb some labor union abuses and also give organized labor some of the things it wants. But it was under fire from both sides.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) expressed hope the bill could be passed by Friday night.

Other senators thought it would take longer. Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), one of a group of Republicans planning to offer a series of stringent amendments to the bill, said there would be "long drawn-out discussion."

'Short Path' to Death

AN UNIDENTIFIED PRIEST bends over a long line of bodies in El Dorado, Kan., where a "short path" tornado hit without warning, killing at least 13 persons. Damage from the twister is set in excess of two million dollars.

Many Parts of Central U. S. Still Plagued by Wild Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Late spring storms hammered central sections of the country again Wednesday night, the most severe in tornado-jittery Kansas.

A rash of tornadoes erupted in south Central Kansas, with heaviest damage reported in Wichita, some 35 miles from El Dorado, which was hit by a killer twister Tuesday night.

About 25 hours in northeast Wichita were damaged and an undetermined number of persons injured by the tornado. Other twisters were spotted near Arkansas

City, Newton and Wellington, all in the Wichita area. Severe thunderstorms were reported during the early morning in sections of Kansas and Missouri. Tornado winds also ripped into areas of western Nebraska and eastern Colorado.

The surging Wabash River threatened serious flooding in Indiana. At Peru, some 1,000 residents were ordered to leave their homes as water neared the top of a floodwall.

Miss Gaylene Wright, formerly of Washington C. H., is among the thousands of Peru, Ind., residents evacuated from their homes as flood waters mounted there. Local relatives have not yet succeeded in making contact with her through the Red Cross.

MANY STEAMS in the north central section of the state overflowed, forcing hundreds of persons from their homes, including 1,500 at Marion, and others at Wabash, Logansport, Delphi and Lafayette.

Rain hit the eastern seaboard from Maine southward to Florida, with falls of about one inch in Danville and Norfolk, Va. More thundershowers were forecast in the central and southern plains and through the lower and middle Mississippi Valley. Fair to partly cloudy weather was the outlook in most other areas.

Great peacetime sacrifices may, and probably will, be called for, McElroy said in a speech prepared for the Commencement Day meeting of the Harvard Alumni Assn.

"Certain it is," he said, "that the test of our social order is the most serious we have ever faced. It is based not alone on the making of arms, but on a truly phenomenal economic and industrial growth in the Soviet Union, plus an equally prodigious development in the field of education. In all of these areas, Russia reached the position she is in today because she worked harder at it."

"Parents will have to contribute more money through taxes or contributions for the kind of educational program the country needs," he said. I anticipate we may have to put from 50 to 100 per cent more money in the broad field of education than we are now allocating."

DAYTON (AP) — A hole in a levee along the rain-swollen Miami River Wednesday night threatened about 1,500 persons, but fast working volunteers and firemen plugged the break before serious damage occurred.

The break was discovered in a levee which protects the Miami Shore area just south of here. About 100 residents already had been evacuated from the low areas.

Workers quickly plugged the hole and started building the levee higher because the river was beginning to flow over the top.

Goldfine Explains
BOSTON (AP) — Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine confirms that one of his companies had paid hotel bills for Sherman Adams, presidential aide, and Mrs. Adams, but denied Adams had used influence on government officials on Goldfine's behalf.

CLEVELAND (AP) — A homemade rocket with 1,200 match heads as fuel—blew up in suburban Rocky River Wednesday. Three boys were injured.

Neighbors blocks away heard the blast and notified police. Most severely injured was Michael Johnson, 13, of Rocky River. He was taken to Lakewood Hospital with a possible skull fracture.

The other two boys are Ronald Lewis, 11, treated for burns and released, and Guy Zavodny, 9.

Police said the boys used a two-foot length of 3½-inch copper pipe for the body of the rocket. They capped one end and then filled the tube with 1,200 match heads.

They propped it up skyward on a board in a vacant lot and made some sort of fuse, but the fuse didn't work. The boys built a fire under the rocket. Then it went off.

Dulles-De Gaulle Conference in Paris To Be 2-Way Fact-Finding Mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — A flying trip by Secretary of State Dulles to confer with Premier Charles de Gaulle in Paris next month is planned primarily as a two-way fact finding mission.

Officials said today the meeting will give Dulles an opportunity to learn at first hand De Gaulle's views on a whole range of problems from the continuing crisis in North Africa to the possible summit conference.

It also will give De Gaulle a chance to find out what kind of United States cooperation and support he can expect in carrying through his program.

The State Department said Wednesday that Dulles would fly to Paris on July 5 and be back here in time to go with President Eisenhower on a visit to Ottawa three days later.

His meeting with De Gaulle will take place against a background of worry about France's role in the western alliance under De Gaulle's leadership.

Possibly one of the most difficult problems which De Gaulle will face is that of cooperation between France and the United States in the field of atomic weapons development. France has been reported at the point of producing nuclear weapons for test purposes and De Gaulle is believed to be determined to make his country the world's fourth atomic power—along with the United States, Russia and Britain.

He may confront Dulles with a strong request for information sharing between France and the United States to the same extent that this country is able to share its atomic weapons secrets with Britain under legislation now pending in Congress.

There has been considerable opposition at the Capitol to providing France with U. S. weapons know-how, because of possible security problems and of the long record of instability in the French government.

Another problem is to work out an allied policy on suspension of nuclear tests following the present U. S. series of experimental explosions in the Pacific.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is understood to have made it clear once again during his talks with President Eisenhower this week that if Britain is to halt its own testing, it must get information already developed in U. S. tests.

The first group of five officers (a New Zealander, two Swedes and two Italians) drove from Israel into south Lebanon and then headed for Beirut.

The officers are from the U. N. truce group in Palestine. Reflecting the urgent view the Council took of the Lebanese situation, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld ordered them to Lebanon immediately to serve until he can recruit a separate organization from U. N. members.

The Security Council authorized the watchdog team in answer to a Lebanese complaint that the U. A. R. is sending arms and men to rebels seeking to overthrow President Camille Chamoun's pro-Western government. The U. A. R. denied the charge.

THE COUNCIL Wednesday ordered Hammarskjöld to organize an observation group and rush it into position to seal Lebanon's borders with the Syrian province of the U. A. R.

Hammarskjöld turned to the U. N. truce chief in Palestine to borrow some observers temporarily. The first group of these officers who have been trying to keep peace along Israel's borders were those who arrived from Jerusalem today.

DELAVARE (AP) — Between 200 and 300 sheriff's deputies, state patrolmen and volunteers suspended a hunt over Delaware County wooded countryside early today for a man who bound and raped two women Wednesday.

The highway patrol, in announcing that the search of a large area north of here had been called off, said there were indications the hunt would be taken up again later today because of a belief the man was still in the area.

The man, described as about 35, weighing 250 pounds and more than six feet tall, is also believed to be the same man who assaulted four other women in the last seven months.

The sheriff's office here said the searchers, most of whom are armed, had been posted around an area estimated at more than 1,000 acres and along all of the roads through it.

Officials have found a truck, shoes and a billfold believed to be those of the suspect. The man was reported to be wearing a red shirt, dirty trousers and a white plastic cap. He is believed to be barefooted.

THE SEARCH started after he bound a 24-year-old housewife and her 18-year-old babysitter and raped them, deputies said.

The housewife's brother and two of his friends arrived at the woman's home to repair a car and were met by the attacker who was carrying a butcher knife. The assailant struck at one man, knocked down another and fled as the third fired a rifle at him.

Authorities said the suspect was believed to be the same man who was chased from the same house last Dec. 20. Last April 10, the suspect, who posed as a junk dealer, was believed responsible for beating a woman north of nearby Worthington, and also slashing her with a knife.

Passes New Test
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army was a step closer to activating the nation's first ballistic missile today after the latest apparently successful launching of a Redstone rocket.

The 63-foot Redstone, the most highly developed ballistic weapon in the U. S. arsenal, roared into space Wednesday night.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said today he walked out of a conference with Cyrus Eaton because Eaton's comparison of the United States and Hitler's Germany "was too much for my stomach."

Walter declined comment on reports that the meeting with the Cleveland financier turned into a loud fist-waving session Wednesday.

The committee chairman said Eaton sought the conference — "He thought it would be nice if we all sat down and met each other."

Walter noted that a subpoena had been issued for questioning Eaton about Eaton's assertions in a May 4 television interview that the FBI and some other federal agencies engaged in "snooping, informing and creeping up on people."

"The question of whether it will be served will be disposed of after members of the committee are informed of what took place yesterday," Walter said.

Eaton, the committee chairman said, "understands how I feel about a lot of things" as a result of the closed-door meeting.

Walter told a reporter he gathered that Eaton thought that by having the informal discussion with Walter, Rep. Gordon Scherer (R-Ohio) and Richard Arens, committee staff director, a formal appearance before the committee might be made unnecessary.

Eaton, however, denied he had sought the meeting.

"That statement by Walter is characteristic of the complete dishonesty of Walter and Arens," Eaton said. "I never sought a meeting with Scherer. A mutual friend suggested I meet him and making a courtesy call there, Walter and Arens turned up."

Eaton said he told Arens "his recent radio statement about me started with a deliberate misrepresentation and the rest of it was gross untruth and demagoguery."

"I told them they were accustomed to intimidating and bullying people around and the time had arrived when they had to stop."

"I told them," Eaton added, "if they felt they wanted me before the committee I would be only too delighted to appear. I'd come with fists flying."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's House-passed reciprocal trade agreements program hit a snag in the Senate Republican leadership today.

In the face of a lop-sided 317-98 House vote Wednesday to continue presidential control over tariffs for five years, Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) announced he will back a move to reduce the extension to three years. The House rejected a two-year limit.

The bill would give Eisenhower authority to reduce U. S. tariffs on imports as much as 25 per cent over the five-year period in return for similar concessions by other countries on U. S. exports.

Twelve of Ohio's 23 representatives Wednesday voted for the bill.

for a general master plan for future guidance in these matters.

DISCUSSED and then held over for further study by councilmen and the city solicitor, was a proposal to license all persons who sell or solicit orders for merchandise and magazines on a house-to-house basis.

The proposed ordinance, modeled after a court-tested Cambridge model, would provide for registration with the city auditor or other designated official, a check on the legitimacy of the that Gilmore may proceed immediately with the development.

Councilman Walter Morrow suggested that roads for access to undeveloped lands be included in the planning of future subdivisions.

City Manager James F. Parkinson said that this was a matter for zoning board consideration or should be spelled out in a formal ordinance for subdivision regulation — legislation which is not now on the city books.

Parkinson also spoke of the need

In fact, a 58-signature petition presented by residents of North Shore and Rosemont who oppose annexation is on file in the city manager's office.

Council members, who have been criticized in some quarters for failure to include the two suburban areas in their annexation plans, approved the policy resolution unanimously.

EARLIER this week officials of the Fayette County Board of Health told county commissioners that there is a growing health problem for both city and county in North Shore and Rosemont because of a lack of proper sewage disposal facilities there.

The board is exploring methods to solve this problem.

There are nearly 200 homes in the two additions, many of them with only the most primitive sanitary facilities which generate a surface and underground seepage toward Paint Creek in the area of the Ohio Water Service Co.'s pumping station.

COUNCIL approved one other piece of legislation at Wednesday night's meeting—an ordinance accepting the plan of Jess Gilmore's new East View subdivision, just north of Washington Ave. at the eastern outskirts of the city. Approval was given under suspension of the three-reading rule in order curity problems and of the long record of instability in the French government.

Another problem is to work out an allied policy on suspension of nuclear tests following the present U. S. series of experimental explosions in the Pacific.

Responsibility To Our Senior Citizens

Not only Washington C. H. and Fayette County, but probably nearly every city and county in the country is having its attention called to an increasing demand for responsibility to its senior citizens.

One of the newest organizations in this field is called the "Joint Council to Improve the Health Care of the Aged." It is declared to be an organization with enormous achievement potential and a worthy objective.

The members are the American Dental Assn., American Hospital Assn., American Medical Assn., and the American Nursing Home Assn.

The Council has three broad objectives — to identify and analyze the health needs of the aged; to appraise available health resources for the aging, and to develop programs to foster the best possible health care for them regardless of economic status. It recognizes as the most pathetic individual in the world to be one who has reached the age where he or she feels that no one cares about him or her any longer.

In order to reach these goals, the Council has laid down a detailed and positive program of action. Research will produce needed information that is not now available, on such matters as the incomes and resources of the aging and the utilization of health services and facilities by the aging.

Improvement and expansion of health care facilities for these senior citizens will be encouraged in a number of ways—the establishment of standards for nursing homes, better and broader methods of governmental assistance where needed, and so on.

Stress will be laid on the development of community health work, such as organized home care and visiting nurse services. Education, research and action programs concerned with the health problems of the aging will be intensified at all levels—national, state and local. Improved diagnostic and treatment methods will be sought.

Another facet of the Council's program will be to increase the availability of improved voluntary health insurance coverage for older people. In this, it will work with the insurance industry, along with other interested groups.

Close to 15 million people constitute our senior population. The Council's program is designed to do everything possible to make life happier and fuller for them all.

In many cases it is not a question of finances. Often older persons who have lived useful and decent lives and have good records as constructive citizens, become sadly neglected through lack of family connections, or other reasons.

Writer Considers Self God

NEW YORK (AP) — Novelist Evan Hunter, a young man with a gift for controversy, is winning fame and fortune by playing God.

"You have to do that when you are at the typewriter," he said.

"You can have your own insecurities and doubts when you're not writing. But when you're in that room with just yourself, the machine and the paper — you have to play God. You have to feel in control, and you have to believe people want to hear what you have to say. If you begin to doubt this, you can't write."

Few doubts seem to have assailed Hunter. At 31, prolific beyond his years, he has produced 175 stories, some 30 novels and three plays, written under his own name and at least four pseudonyms. Total output has been more than three million words.

"I'm not really happy unless I am writing," said Hunter, who is dark-haired, blue-eyed, and stands a slender 6 feet. "I feel guilty."

Evan, a former schoolteacher, is equally adept at writing science fiction, mysteries, sport stories and children's books. But his main recognition has come from problem novels.

In 1954 he stirred up a literary storm with "The Blackboard Jungle," an 80,000-word portrayal of teen-age savagery in the schoolroom. He turned out the book in exactly two months. It has sold more than two million copies.

"I sold the movie rights for only $35,000," he said ruefully, "and the picture earned more than $8 million."

Hollywood paid $150,000 for his latest book, "Strangers When We Meet." This novel, which blasts the lid off "the coffin of suburbia," already has gone into a second printing, and has drawn both buzzsaws and brickbats from commuters.

Hunter sturdily defends his attack against the conformity which he feels blights the lives of thousands of American families living in new suburban housing developments.

Hunter himself has escaped that "60-by-100-foot green coffin" he complains about. He lives with his wife and three sons in a 10-room house on a four-acre estate beyond the suburbs.

There he methodically turns out 5,000 words or so daily, and never waits for inspiration.

"I don't believe there is any such thing," he said. "Inspiration is a kind of myth promoted by pseudo-artists who live in Greenwich Village. If writing is your profession, you sit down and write whether you are inspired or not."

What's Next for France?

Since 1945, the entire world has been in a state of revolution. This has not only been a political revolution, the nature of which has been to move away from representative government to executive government, but it has also been a period of social and economic revolution — a movement away, in Western Europe and America, from Calvinistic capitalism to socialism in a variety of forms.

This revolution has been sufficiently in process to require understanding because it influences and affects every country and the United States more than any other country.

A revolution always starts as a protest against some institution. The French Revolution of 1789 was a revolt against the decaying institutions of feudalism; the Russian revolution of 1917 started as a revolt against a decadent autocracy.

The Turkish revolution of 1908 which ultimately brought about Kemal's reforms was a revolt against the degrading nature of the Sultanate and its demoralizing effect on the people; the Chinese revolutions of 1911, 1915, and 1925 were declarations of opposition to foreign domination over a great people.

The Meiji Revolution in Japan of 1868 was a revolt against the obscurantism of the Shogunate.

The American Revolution of 1775 comes down to the right of a people to a government of its own choice and therefore was a protest against taxation and government without representation.

And so it has gone throughout the history of man. No revolution ever is made by the masses of the people. It is either a method of an element in the ruling class to use the masses to change the form of government or the structure of governments, for instance, when the bankers and large industrialists of Germany supported Hitler with the object of overthrowing the Third Reich, or it is a product of the intellectuals as was the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917.

What is the nature of the De Gaulle revolution? It really started with military coup d'etat in Algeria in the course of which a large section of the army manifested its protest against a decaying parliamentary system of government which since 1946 was steadily leading France to suicide.

If the army and navy and air force joined together, it could have produced a civil war in France which might have set the world on fire. We are not yet free from this danger.

Charles DeGaulle entered politics to hold France in tutelage for a short period during which he might rewrite the Constitution, destroy multiple parties, eliminate proportional representation and restore a responsible parliamentary system of government in which the executive and legislative branches of government are separated, as they are in the United States.

There is no record in history of a people being held in tutelage except by a dictatorial political party such as the Kuomintang in China, the Communists in Russia, or by a dictatorial individual such as Franco in Spain. DeGaulle therefore offers to do something new and different for which he gives himself the short period of six months.

DeGaulle faces five pressures which at this moment seem insuperable. Pressure No. 1 is from the right, from those who would reject parliamentarism altogether and who would establish a dictatorship; Pressure No. 2 is from the left, the Communists who must sooner or later attempt to replace DeGaulle by a Communist regime; Pressure No. 3 is from the military forces which will find DeGaulle too slow in achieving their objective which is the restoration of France's prestige in the world; Pressure No. 4 is from the United States which will insist that France remain in NATO; Pressure No. 5 is from Soviet Russia which will insist that DeGaulle leave NATO.

These pressures will increase as the six-month period will approach its close and DeGaulle will demand and take more time. At that point, he will be accused of being a Louis Philippe, a Gen. Boulanger, and there are bound to be barricades.

October then is the month when the first stage of this revolution in France should terminate and another stage be entered upon. What the next stage will be, no one can say now, but it must be in the minds of such men as Soustelle and Duclos, to say nothing of Mendes-France who still has a role to play.

Revolutions do not move ac-ording to any schedule. They are a series of explosions, each explosion setting off many chain reactions.

How To Set Lights For TV Comfort

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

UNDER the proper conditions, there is much less eye focus strain involved in viewing television than there is in doing such close-up work as sewing or reading. Inadequate room lighting or improper adjustment of the TV picture, however, might cause a good deal of eye strain.

Keep your set in good condition so you can receive steady, clear pictures. Watch only the stations which come in strong in your particular area. Flickering or grainy images can quickly tire your eyes.

Adapt Picture

Always adjust the contrast and brightness dials after the room lights have been turned on. The picture should be adapted to the lighting in the room. Don't adjust the room lighting to the brightness of the TV tube.

Your eyes, remember, can become more tired watching TV than viewing a movie in a theater. The reason for this is simple. In a motion picture theater, your eyes are moving constantly, but in watching television at home, your eyes converge steadily for long periods of time.

So don't try to see the entire screen equally well, and don't try to hold any detail. It's best to keep your eyes and attention constantly on the move.

Periodic Rests

Every half hour or so, get up and take a walk to the kitchen to rest your eyes. Even while watching a program take the opportunity of boring sequences — or commercials — to lungs also promotes circulation.

Lausche To Help Dems On Ohio State Ticket

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Democrats running for statewide offices probably will get a certain amount of help in their campaigns this year from Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio).

However, one political observer said today that Lausche's assistance to campaigns of both Steve Young for the U.S. Senate and Michael V. DiSalle for governor will be limited. It will not be anything like the all-out campaigns Lausche conducts for himself when he is running, the observer said. He said Lausche's senatorial duties will keep him too busy for that.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

Bike Ride to Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dud Weider, 19-year-old Dartmouth College pre-medical student, didn't shed a pound by pedaling a bicycle almost 700 miles from the Hanover, N. H. campus to his home in suburban Bay Village.

He arrived home, glad he had undertaken the week-long trip, but just plain tired. Economy may have entered into the matter. Cost of the trip: $28.

Kartoffelkuchen Iss Gooten!

FROM BEYOND THE RHINE: Potato pancakes or Kartoffelkuchen, a mixture of grated potatoes and eggs browned to crispness, are a specialty in the Rhineland and Berlin.

African Violet Champ Discloses Her Formula

FANTASTIC FLOWER: Mrs. W. Keith Myers shows off Calumet Beacon, her prize-winning African violet. It is two feet wide.

KANSAS CITY — "You don't need a green thumb to grow African violets, you need a dirty finger."

Four years ago, Mrs. W. Keith Myers was a failure at raising this beautiful tropical plant.

This spring, her fantastic Calumet Beacon, measuring 24 inches across and filled with clusters of double blue and white flowers, took first place in the annual show of the African Violet Club of Greater Kansas City. She won 26 ribbons with 27 plants entered against hundreds of competitors.

How does one go from failure to success?

"I felt so frustrated when I saw the beautiful plants at the first show I attended three years ago," Mrs. Myers confessed. "I went to the library and got books on violets and I asked a lot of questions of other growers."

AT THE NEXT SHOW she attended, one year later, she took eight plants and won six ribbons. These winning plants were raised in windows with natural light. She still grows them this way, but also raises them in trays under fluorescent light in the basement.

What are the fundamentals of successful violet raising?

"Proper care— not casual care. Reasonable humidity. A schedule for fertilizing. Good sterilized soil. Good light."

Explaining her "dirty finger" remark, Mrs. Myers said one reason so many fail with violets is that they overwater. One of the best ways to tell when a violet needs watering, she said, is to touch the dirt with a finger. If the soil feels dry, water it. With 400 plants to care for, her finger gets quite a workout.

Do You Know?

A new margarine, sold only through drug stores but not by prescription, is directed at persons with heart disease or atherosclerosis (a form of hardening of the arteries) who are on low fat diets. The margarine is made chiefly from nonhydrogenated corn oil—an unsaturated fat that may be of value in lowering cholesterol levels. Designed for cooking, as well as for a spread, the product may be used by a whole family. It includes the vitamin fortification now customary in standard margarine and requires refrigeration.

Kitchen thrift: If you have a large family you may find it economical to buy such a juice as pineapple in the 46-ounce (6 cups) size can.

When you are buying "large" shrimp, count on there being two dozen or more to the pound.

AP Food Editor

Ever visit an old-time cook and gobble up a plateful of potato pancakes as fast as she could take them out of the frying pan? Crisp around the edges, golden brown, they're made chiefly from grated raw potatoes and eggs. Applesauce is their traditional accompaniment.

You'll find these pancakes called potato cakes (kartoffelkuchen) in Pennsylvania German country. They probably originated in Germany where they are specialties in the Rhineland and Berlin.

We don't know how potato pancakes came to be associated with applesauce. A Rhinish dish of mashed potatoes and applesauce is called Himmel und Erde (Heaven and Earth). Sounds as if, ages ago, someone discovered the combination was wonderfully good!

The potato pancake recipe we are giving you is our version of a classic one. It calls for the grated onion added by one school of cooks, omitted by another. Other versions have mashed potatoes thrown in. Still other substitute cracker meal for the flour, and some cooks add broth.

ONE OF New York's oldest and most famous German restaurants adds nutmeg and parsley and serves the pancakes with stewed apples and crisp bacon. The stewed apples are customary in some regions of Germany and in others the pancakes are offered with mixed stewed fruit.

The only work involved in making the pancake mixture is grating the potatoes. Cooks differ about just how the potatoes should be grated.

Some want them fine, some coarse; we like them the latter way. There are differences of opinion, too, about whether the potatoes should be drained (when they are finely grated) before they're mixed with the other ingredients.

We used long white potatoes when we tested this recipe. Those are the smooth-skinned potatoes that are in market all summer long.

POTATO PANCAKES

Ingredients: 1 pound potatoes, 1½ teaspoons finely grated onion (½ of a small onion), 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ cup (about) corn oil.

Method: Pare potatoes and at once grate coarsely (using a grater whose slots are 3-16 of an inch wide); there should be 2½ cups packed down. Mix with onion. Beat eggs until thick and ivory-colored; beat in salt, baking powder and flour; fold in grated potatoes and onion. Heat ¼ cup of the oil in a 10-inch skillet (to 380 degrees if electric skillet is used). Drop heaping tablespoonfuls of mixture into hot fat, taking up some of liquid at bottom of bowl each time. Spread potato shreds thin over each pancake as soon as they are dropped into fat. Cook until golden-brown on each side. Add more oil as needed for each batch. Place cooked pancakes in slow oven or on top plate of very hot rotisserie as they are cooked so potato shreds will mellow and soften a bit if necessary. Serve piping hot with applesauce or a fine brand of sliced apples packed in sugar syrup. Makes about 16 pancakes.

SIGHTSEEING: Peggy gazes at landmarks on the Avenida Rio Branca, Rio's Broadway. Her passport - perfect outfit is shirt-and-skirt in blue and white, drip-dry seersucker, which needs no ironing.

American Girls See the World in Separates

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Writer

American girls can go around the world in blouses and skirts—and look at home in any capital.

It's a talent developed in the U.S.A. — this ability to mix and match tops and skirts to produce costumes in any degree of formality, suitable for any climate.

And whether it's Paris or Rio, Tokyo or Calcutta, you can always tell an American girl by her casual, well-groomed look, her easy air of being correctly and comfortably dressed, her skill in accessorizing the simplest shirt-and-skirt outfits with the right touch of color, the correct handbag, the imaginative scarf.

This year blouses come in an endless range of colors, styles and fabrics, to enable smart separates fans to assemble their favorite wardrobes. Overblouses are popular in the new chemise silhouette, and may be teamed with a coordinated skirt to look like a dress. New wash-and-wear fabrics make life easy for the blouse fancier, too. For she can dunk out her blouses at night and wear them again in the morning without the touch of an iron. That's one reason American girls can travel light and always look bandbox-fresh.

Balanced Double Action means Better Baking!

The "most important" thing about baking...

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
Some 20 years ago while H. G. Wain, Stafford Rd., in Green Township was cutting a tree that was well over 125 years old, he found marks of an ax blade not far from its heart.

He saved the pieces of timber bearing the marks, because they represented an old "trail blaze" for which a woodsman had chopped the bark from the tree to help define a trail through the forest.

It was estimated the "blaze" had been cut on the tree around 100 years ago, possibly longer, when some settler or hunter wanted to establish a trail through the dense forest, as was done by so many of the pioneers.

Daniel Boone, Simon Kenton and other early explorers and Indian fighters, cut innumerable blaze marks in the forest to guide themselves and others who followed through the wilderness.

The "blazes" were cut on trees about 100 yards apart, and if the trail kept straight, the blazes formed the guide. If the trail turned, a small sapling was partly cut off and inclined in the direction of the trail.

These trails were many and were followed so much that many of them became roads through the woods. Some of the main highways in the county today are largely over old trails "blazed" through the woods.

Not only has Fayette County had many early settlers who "blazed" their way through the forest with axes, but down through the years in many fields "trail blazers" as we now refer to leaders in their respective fields have lived in Fayette County to the everlasting honor and glory of the county.

These "trail blazers" have been and are, in the fields of life in which they have been leaders who have left much worthwhile for the benefit of mankind.

KILLS UNUSUAL RAT

Recently Mose Merritt, Van Deeman Ave., killed a rat that had some rather distinctive markings.

The rat was the usual color except it had a white (blazed) face, which made it outstanding.

Now Mose is expecting to find other rats that have white markings.

WELL LIGHTED HOMES

Two pairs of English sparrows have built their nests within the enclosure of the long trip of fluorescent lights in Wynn and Weade Auction House on South Main St.

Apparently the sparrows find everything to their liking when the lights are off, but when they are on for hours at a time, the birds find they have just about the best lighted homes in the city.

Whether they remain on the nests when the lights are turned on, I do not know.

OLD RAILROAD TARIFFS

I have an old freight bill of the Cincinnati and Zanesville Railroad, (later C&M.V., CA&C and now the Pennsylvania) bearing the date of May 22, 1867. It is signed by S. F. Johnson, who, I believe, was the grandfather of the late Miss Elizabeth Johnson.

The bill, "payable only in bankable funds," was for transporting a barrel of sugar (probably brown or soft A), a barrel of candles and a large cheese from Circleville to Washington C. H.

The total charge was $1.28 of which 58 cents was listed as freight and 70 cents for "charges."

The bill was made to W. Hay and paid by him.

It is noted on the old bill that no packages would be carried for less than 25 cents.

Also the following terms were carried on the old bill:

"The above goods have arrived at the depot, consigned to you, and are now ready for delivery on the payment of freight and charges. If not removed on the day of notice, they will be sent to storage at expense of consignee. The Company will not be responsible for damage from ordinary leakage, breakage or insufficient cooerage, and no damages will be allowed after the goods leave the depot, unless by consent."

MERCHANTS BUILDING

Twenty years ago, work of erecting the Merchants Building, one of the most important structures on the Fayette County Fairground, was under way.

Joe Bailey was doing the concrete and cement block work and George Johnson was in charge of the carpentering.

It was erected co-operatively with 40 merchants and others participating in the cost by leasing one or more of the 40 booths for a period of several years.

The structure, the walls of which are of concrete blocks, the floor concrete, and the remainder frame, with metal roof, is 252 feet long and 40 feet wide. It was completed in time for the 1938 Fair.

George Gossard was secretary of the Fair Board at that time. During the same year the Merchants Building was completed, discovery was made that the race track was 4.8 feet short of a half mile, and the track was changed so the half mile would correspond with official requirements.

Down through the years the Merchants Building has been one of the main attractions by reason of its innumerable exhibits, on the Fairground. It also has frequently been used for large meets by various organizations.

Westinghouse Loses Appeal to High Court

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has rejected an appeal by Westinghouse Electric Corp. in a suit by the estate of Lonnie Steele who was electrocuted by a short circuit in a milk cooler on the Madison County farm of C. E. Carr in 1948.

Common pleas court held for the company in the damage action but an appellate court reversed and returned the case for further proceedings. The company appealed the reversal to the high court.

Governor Is Assigned New Con as Chauffeur

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill has a new chauffeur. He is William Lawrence, 38, an Ohio Penitentiary trustee, sentenced in 1939 for first-degree murder in Cuyahoga County.

Lawrence replaces Grant Scott, 44, recently paroled after serving a sentence for his part in an Akron slaying in 1937. Scott now works in the governor's office.

Family Gives Dad A Day of Dreams

By DOROTHY WHIPPLE, M.D.
NEW YORK (AP) — "You know what I think?" said 12-year-old Chris at the supper table. "I think Dad works too hard and he ought to have a real holiday on Father's Day. This is the third night in a row he hasn't been home for dinner."

"Could we give him a holiday for a present?" said Betsy.

"Why not? You know he loves to go fishing. Why couldn't we all take him fishing?" asked Chris.

"I think that's a wonderful idea!" said Mom, and she just glowed inside at this spontaneous outburst from her children.

"Let's get it all planned and paid for so he doesn't have to do a thing but go," said Chris. "I've got enough money to buy a tank of gas."

"I'll get his fishing tackle out and all fixed up," said John, "and I'm going to get him that blue dragon fly he wanted last year."

"Let's make a sign to tell him about it," suggested Betsy. "I don't have much money, but I could get the maps. And Mom, could I make some devilled eggs?"

"Sure thing, Betsy, you and I will get all the food ready, so we won't have to spend any money in a restaurant."

"Mom, did Dad renew his fishing license?" Chris was trying to think of everything.

"I'm sure he did, Chris," said Mom, "but I'll check on it."

And so it went. All three children and Mom planned every last detail of that trip and together they made a big sign: "Dad's Fishing Trip — sponsored by His Wife and Children."

"What's sponsored mean?" asked Betsy.

"It means we're paying for it," answered Chris.

"Well, how do you spell it?" There was a little money bag attached to the sign labelled "expense account." There was a map with the route carefully marked out. There were pictures of devilled eggs and a little package containing the blue dragonfly. Near the sign were Dad's fishing clothes all ready to wear and his pole and tackle box in apple pie order. His fishing license was pinned to his cap.

It took days of excited planning and whispering, but the secret was well kept. Saturday evening the plan was sprung and no Dad could have been more pleased. He loved fishing and he loved jaunts with his family.

Nurserymen can fool chrysanthemums into holding their golden blossoms from blooming until a special football weekend by shining artificial light on them a few minutes each night.

Some Bankers Cool on Views By Treasury

Federal Finance Crew Elated over Ability To 'Stretch' Debt

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Treasury's elation over its success this week in stretching out the maturity of the federal debt isn't shared today by all in the financial community.

And the policy is being watched closely by corporate treasurers, school boards and city fathers who may be wanting to tap the investment market for funds. Already they've sold a record-breaking volume of new securities this year. And now Uncle Sam is becoming a bigger competitor in this market.

The Treasury's aim, however, wins the praise of many on the sidelines for its long term good effects on the money market — that conglomerate thing that can determine how much interest you'll have to pay if you want to buy on time or get a mortgage, and even can determine whether there'll be money available if your community wants to build a new school or your firm wants to borrow to build a new plant.

The Treasury holds that it isn't upsetting the investment market nor mopping up investment money pools for long.

What the Treasury wants to do—and what it succeeded in doing this week—is to get more of the federal debt into long term bonds so that it won't have to be going into the money market every little while to refund short term issues as they come due.

This week the Treasury sold 1 billion dollars in 27-year bonds for cash and refunded some 74 billion of maturing issues into new 6 years 8 months bonds. This allowed the Treasury to stretch out the average maturity of the federal debt to 63 months. Last week the average was 58 months.

The Treasury isn't out of the financial woods by any means. The Treasury secretary's fiscal problems go on and on. Before the end of the year he is expected to seek eight billion dollars more in cash to meet the deficit that will mount fast in the second half of the year.

In trips to the money market, the Treasury likely will take care not to dry up the reservoir of investment money and thus upset the borrowing plans of states and communities and of corporations. Also it will have to walk a tight rope lest it upset another administration aim—to bring down long term interest rates as a counter to the recession.

Here's Tip on How To Avoid Father's Day Blues Sunday

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
What's the matter with Dad? He has those Father's Day blues. He's trying to think how to discourage the family from their annual last-minute shopping spree, which ends up with an unwanted avalanche of unsuitable merchandise which he will be expected to wear, use and pretend to like.

He's dimly contemplating a day when everyone will be unnaturally thoughtful, and he'll be served breakfast in bed before he has a chance to brush his teeth. He's wondering how he can get out of the usual festive gathering of the clan, when all his more unattractive relatives will be invited to help him celebrate His Day, when his sons will stand around uncomfortably in their Sunday suits, his daughters will put on an act of adoring fealty, and his wife will insist on waiting on him hand and foot, making him feel like an invalid aged 102.

He wishes they would all just act natural for once, and let him go fishing. He wishes they wouldn't feel that one day of saintly behavior will make up for a year of ignoring or brow-beating Dad. He wishes most of all that it weren't such an obvious effort to be nice to the head of the family.

What he'd like is just to spend the day putting around in his old clothes, with the children being their normal selves, and himself not expected to show appreciation for a batch of wild sports shirts and shrieking neckties that he wouldn't be caught dead in.

Here are his suggestions for a perfect Father's Day next Sunday:

1. Let him get up when he likes on the big morning, and have breakfast when he wants it.
2. Instead of putting on a show of one-day solicitude, let Junior keep up with his chores the rest of the year. He might mow the lawn so Dad won't have to do it.
3. Daughter could add to his peace of mind by showing a little filial respect on other days as well as this, and by surrendering the telephone from time to time.
4. His wife might present him with a signed resolution to refrain from nagging.

5. The rest of the family could allow him to watch baseball and the fights on television, even if it interfered with their favorite programs—at least half of the time.
6. Let him have his favorite roast beef and apple pie for dinner, and don't feel hurt if he falls asleep after it.

7. Keep his socks darned and the buttons sewed on his shirts. This is a chore daughter could share with Mom, for a change.
8. If he wants to spend the day playing golf or going fishing, all by himself, don't make him feel like a monster and a cad.
9. If he's late for dinner occasionally, or takes a night out for bowling, don't jump to the conclusion that he's out with a blonde.
10. Don't waste money on thoughtless gifts he doesn't want or need.

The majority of fathers, a recent survey reveals, would rather have normal consideration and respect the other 364 days of the year than be deluged with gifts and unnatural behavior on the 365th day.

As to gifts—they prefer a gift certificate that they can spend themselves. Oh, yes, he does too have good taste!

450 Enrolled In Bible School

Christian Church
Averages 300

The two-week Christian Church Bible School will close Friday evening with a program at the church, the Rev. Don McMillin said.

Starting at 7:30 p. m. the program will consist of songs, choruses, handwork demonstrations and Bible drills.

Daily attendance at the Bible School directed by the Rev. McMillin has averaged 300. Total enrollment is 450.

Theme for the school is "We Worship the Lord." A tabernacle, patterned after the tabernacle used by Moses in the Old Testament, was the special project of the group. The model measures 3 feet by 5 feet.

The daily schedule consists of opening with a chapel, followed by a work period, Bible pictures and the closing with another chapel. Film strips of the Holy Land are used with the slides of the Bible pictures, the Rev. Mr. McMillin said.

The Rev. Mr. McMillin is assisted by Mrs. McMillin, registrar; Judy Smith, assistant registrar; Dale Maddux, picture operator; Sheila Robinson, music director; Janice Chaney, pianist and four superintendents for the various children's departments.

Mrs. Otis Stookey heads the Junior department; Mrs. John Frederick is in charge of the intermediate department; Mrs. Richard Curl, the superintendent of the primary department; Mrs. Carl Meriwether heads the beginners department; and Mrs. David Lucas, the nursery department.

Twenty parents helped set up transportation stations at various homes in the city. On the faculty of the Bible school are:

Junior department — Lara Faye Wolfe, Mrs. Earl Wolfe, Mrs. Forest McAllister, Mary Louise Kitchen, Mrs. Joseph Pollard, Mrs. Calvin Oty, Mrs. William Goldsberry, Mrs. Robert Gifford, Mrs. Ned Kinzer, Mrs. Harry Butler, Donna Mitchem, Mrs. William Peacock, Mrs. Hays Watson, and Richard Matthews; Intermediate — Mrs. Lavern Morgan, Mrs. Charles Jenkins and Mrs. Harriett Jenkins; Baby nursery — Mrs. Philip Palmer, and Mrs. Robert Cline; Nursery — Mrs. Philip Medary, Mrs. Forest Lininger, Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Pattie Fisher and Barbara Watson; Beginners — Mrs. Robert Strong, Mrs. R. ## Letters To Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

If you are having a lot of trouble say sickness, loss of job or troubles of any kind, read the Bible. You will find the answer in the Old Book, and then follow instructions. It is a sure cure for what ails you. One of the most important things is to keep busy at something creative, if you are able, if not able to do anything, read the Bible.

You will read about an old fellow who either had your trouble or worse. No, people have not changed since the dawn of time. Man is naturally a stubborn creature and has always wanted to live his way, so God gave man 10 commandments on which our laws are based today. If you break any one of these, you will be punished for it, and sometimes our laws will catch up with the breaker.

The reason of so much law-breaking is that the breaker never reads the Bible. The Holy Bible will give you more thrills than the blood and thunder novel, and you feel a lot better. Try it and you'll be surprised. Hunt up the story of Joseph or that grand old man, Joshua. Read these and you will be a better man or woman.

And speaking of women, read about the woman judge, Deborah. We often hear the expression, "Poor little women", but some of our highest offices are occupied by women, and women are organized into political clubs, so Mr. Politician, watch your step, for these honest women are going to throw you out of office.

I would say that every woman politician is acquainted with the Bible, and will conduct any political office, with honesty and justice.

Now to return to you Mr. Bible Reader: if you have reached the age of 65 and have pretty fair health, don't be a drone, keep busy, for by engaging in useful work, you will be independent. Look around you. There may be yards to mow or keep in shape, or doors to be hung, or screens to be repaired or the gate needs new hinges. Let the neighbors know about your capabilities.

If your work has always been in a store, you will make an excellent door-to-door salesman, and not only that, but by walking you will have splendid health. If you have some problem that just about floors you, read the story of little David and that 10-foot giant Goliath. Here was a boy who had been properly trained, and of course he had faith in God. By this faith he was able to overcome this giant pagan.

When you read further in the Bible, you will find the answer to all your problems. Smile, cultivate a pleasant personality, for it sure pays big dividends. And don't forget, Read the Bible.

Buyer, Speak Up! Complaint Helpful to Manufacturers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Complain about shoddy or poor merchandise, advises an expert. Often the merchant and the manufacturer don't know it's no good.

Although there are plenty of chronic grippers around to keep store complaint departments busy, the average consumer is too likely to shy away from making complaints, even justified ones, says Prof. Jules Labarthe of Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Often merchants have found only one or two customer complaints about an item, "yet upon investigation some flaw or weakness in the fabric or construction was so serious that we could not imagine every customer being happy with the purchase when she used it," he told a gathering of homemakers recently.

"Too many manufacturers have become more interested in quick eye-appeal than in good construction," insists housewares designer Fred Diamond. "We see it every day in everything from ostentatious automobiles to pots and pans."

Recently, she recalled, a manufacturer brought her three brushes in a new line. She experimented with each.

"They look very nice," she conceded. "But they don't work. Not one does the job it is supposed to do."

An appliance manufacturer recently put on the market a good-looking electric frypan — and only then discovered it was impossible to remove the electric plug without scorching the cook's fingers.

"All this is bad design," continued Miss Diamond, and each instance shows that no one has taken the time or effort to find out if the item works right. The test too often these days is merely whether it looks good enough to sell well."

Miss Diamond blames a lot of this trend on some American automobile makers.

"They have done a super-duper job of aiming at vulgar conspicuous consumption," she said.

"They've added useless chrome which has destroyed simple good lines. And, because up to now cars have sold so well, other manufacturers think they have hit on the good formula. As a consequence, they have been dragging along our toasters and our vacuum cleaners with them into poor design and bad taste."

Remedies, she feels, lies at the source.

"I don't think manufacturers

AWOL Sailor Accused In School Burglary

PAINESVILLE (AP)—Donald Gross, 19, of Mount Vernon, will be arraigned Monday in Lake County common pleas court on an indictment for burglary and grand larceny.

Gross was arrested in April, while he was AWOL from the Navy, and charged with breaking into Harvey High School here and stealing a $300 movie camera.

Jewels Called Best Buy Today

Women Given Tips On Convincing Men

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Every woman with a yen for diamonds should note well the feminine logic of beautiful, red-haired and jewel-bedecked Marianne Ostler, who explains how to convince a husband that precious jewels are a man's best buy.

The way this noted Viennese-American jewelry designer explains it in her new book, "Jewels and the Woman," a diamond bracelet or an emerald necklace really costs nothing, because—

"The precious stones that Cleopatra wore for the admiration of three monarchs still hold their pristine fire, and no doubt sparkle on the throat of some fair lady of today. If the cost of a jewel is measured against the duration of its usefulness . . . it is clear there is to better investment."

Born and reared in Vienna, Mrs. Ostler married court jeweler Oliver Ostler, and started designing jewelry for such well-heeled personages as Queen Marie of Romania, the Maharani of Cooch-Bihar, Queen Geraldine of Albania, the Maharani of Baroda and the six sisters of King Zog of Albania.

The Ostlers transferred operations from Vienna to New York in 1940, where they started turning out precious baubles for Americans in the upper income brackets.

Marianne has some definite ideas on current jewelry fashions, to wear with the new chemise and trapeze dresses.

"I'm definitely not in favor of all those ropes of colored beads women are wearing these days," says she. "Lots of beads only make a woman look older."

"Jewelry should not be worn merely as a display of wealth. If that's all you want to do, you might as well wear a check pinned to your dress."

"In my opinion, the ear clip is the most important focal point of today's jewelry—the bigger the better."

Jaywalking Helps Trap Accused Thug

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Joseph Shepard, 46, of Cincinnati, today might have been spending some of the more than $1,000 police say he is believed to have robbed from a loan company, but he is in Dayton City Jail because he jaywalked during his escape.

Patrolman F. J. Arnold, unaware of a robbery Tuesday at the United Finance Co. about three blocks from his traffic post, started to write Shepard a ticket for jaywalking when things started happening.

Shepard started to leave so Arnold said he grabbed him around the waist and felt a gun tucked in Shepard's belt. The patrolman said when he started to reach for the gun, Shepard broke free.

After a short chase, Arnold again grabbed Shepard and, in the tussle, money started falling out of Shepard's pockets.

About that time two more patrolmen arrived and told Arnold that Shepard was believed to be the man who robbed the loan office.

The Cincinnati was held for investigation of armed robbery.

May Vital Statistics Report Lists 71 Births, 26 Deaths

The birth record in Fayette County continues its rise of recent months, according to the May vital statistics report from the county's Health Department.

Last month the total number of births reported in this county was 71. Of these however, only 38 were to residents of this county, 19 from Washington C. H. and 19 from the remainder of the county.

The other 33 births to non-residents were almost entirely to mothers brought from to-ns and rural districts surrounding this county to Fayette County Memorial Hospital. Two of the births were in April, reports to the health department having been delayed.

The May records on deaths showed a total of 26 within the county, 13 in the city and eight in the remainder of the county area. Five deaths reported in this county were those of non-residents.

THE FOLLOWING list of births shows first the name of the father, next the address according to the nearest postoffice and finally the name of the infant.

High Court To Study Hidden Weapon Case

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has agreed to review an appellate court order for trial of Joseph Betts, Cleveland, on a charge of carrying concealed weapons under state law instead of a municipal ordinance.

The appellate court, in reversing Betts' Municipal Court conviction, said a city ordinance making it a misdemeanor to carry concealed weapons was in conflict with a state law making it a felony. Betts had a gun in the glove compartment of his car.

Groundhogs Are Good Eating, 3 Bloomingburg Men Know Now

Fried groundhog or woodchuck, is "delicious eating."

You can take that from three Bloomingburg men who know from experience.

Robert M. Jefferson, supplied the groundhogs, and Mrs. Hubert Lucas cooked them and served them in her restaurant in Bloomingburg to Jefferson and his two guests, Thomas H. Parrett and Joe Evans, proprietor of a food market, Tuesday noon.

The adventure in eating came about like this:

Jefferson had been worrying with a couple of dens of woodchucks near his farm home on the London Rd. Tuesday morning he decided to do something about them. He called in three tenants on the farm, Verna Harmon, his son, Huston Harmon, and Woodrow Williams. Armed with a hose, they went first to the den in the cattle barn — where their first venture met with failure.

THEN THEY went to the one near the scale house. There they had better luck — complete success. Not long after the water had been forced down into the entrance to the underground den, the family of the mother and six half-grown youngsters started coming out, one by one.

Jefferson also picked them, one by one, with his .38 calibre revolver.

The hose attack on the den in the cattle barn failed, Jefferson

FORCIBLE DETENTION CHARGED

A six-plaintiff action charging forcible detention of approximately 78 acres in Paint Township by a tenant farmer and asking rent (described as one-half the crops) from Nov. 10, 1957, to Nov. 10, 1958, has been filed in Common Pleas Court.

Bringing the suit are Robert, Emma Ruth, Martha E., Joseph, Kenneth J. and Mack Powers, all residents of Springfield or the South Solon community. Defendants are H. Edward Krueger, Route 1, Bloomingburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foster, Good Hope.

The suit alleges that Krueger has illegally held the Paint Township farm since Nov. 10, 1957, and that he received notice to vacate on Nov. 10, of last year. Krueger, the petition claims, became a tenant of the plaintiffs and the defendant Foster who, the suit alleges, purchased the life estate of Orin McKinley Powers at sheriff's sale in 1958. This life estate, the plaintiffs aver, terminated with Orin Powers' death in 1957.

The suit asks restitution of the farm to the plaintiffs, rent in crops as determined by the court and that the sheriff of Fayette County turn over to the Orin M. Powers estate a balance of $2,075 from sale of the life estate which the court had ordered held by that officer at the conclusion of the sale.

Venezuela Still Investigates Attack Against U.S. Veep

By LARRY ALLEN
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The Venezuelan government still is investigating the causes of the mob attacks upon U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon here a month ago Friday. It has given no indication of what it has learned, and the whole affair has been pretty well expunged from local memories.

The Ministry of Interior says it does not know how many of the more than 100 persons arrested for stone throwing and other violent acts are still in jail or whether anyone has been punished.

There seems to be general agreement everywhere that the incident was Communist inspired.

Caracas newspapers published declarations by junta President Wolfgang Larrazabal after the touring vice president and his wife were attacked that an intensive investigation would be made. Since then there has been no mention of the inquiry in any newspaper.

Members of the American colony in Venezuela express belief the ardor of the investigation had been considerably dampened. They attribute this to news that the United States had alerted troops for a rescue of Nixon and his party, if needed and if requested by Venezuela.

Venezuelans who expressed shame and humiliation quickly stopped apologizing. Instead, they launched bitter attacks against the United States for daring to think of sending troops and intervening in Venezuelan affairs.

The Communists seem pleased that the responsibility for what they called "a demonstration of national revenue" had been laid at their door.

From the American viewpoint

Judge Flips Coin To Reach Decision

DAYTON (AP) — Victor Hudson, taken before Municipal Judge Carl D. Kessler for drunkenness, faced sentencing until the judge discovered the records in Hudson's case were not available.

"I don't have your record here, so we'll flip a coin," Judge Kessler told the man, adding that the coin would decide between a work-house sentence or freedom.

"I'm not a gambling man, you call it," Hudson replied.

The judge flipped a dime into the air while Hudson watched.

"Heads, you win," the judge said. Hudson won.

Although bald eagles often eat mammals or birds, they prefer fish.

here, Communists, fast rising to places of power and influence in this country, saw in the Nixon good will visit a chance to capitalize on Venezuela's economic and other complaints against the United States.

Venezuelan-American relations cooled considerably after the United States put restrictions on the imports of oil from this country. That coolness merged into iciness in many Venezuelan quarters after learning that the United States had given refuge to ex-dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez in Miami.

Venezuela now is preparing to ask that Perez Jimenez be extradited here for trial.

The United States has indicated it would promptly consider an extradition request.

There also is a feeling the United States should give more consideration to Latin America as a whole in its distribution of foreign aid to help many countries improve their standard of living.

There is a big segment of Venezuelans who feel that while what happened to the Nixons was deplorable, it nevertheless was the means of focusing attention upon Venezuela and the rest of Latin America and served as a warning that the United States had better pay more attention to its own backyard.

Boros Getting Backing in Open

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The Boros bandwagon began rolling today as play started in the 58th National Open golf championship at sun-drenched Southern Hills but the one guy who wouldn't get on it was Julius Boros.

Boros hasn't done anything sensational during the practice rounds over the rolling 6,907-yard layout. But suddenly a lot of people looked at the records and decided that the big fellow who won the title at Dallas in 1952 under the same sort of weather conditions is a contender to be feared as much as Ben Hogan.

Boros chuckles at the suggestion that he doesn't mind the heat. "I can sweat as much as anybody," he said, "but I usually play as well on long courses as short ones."

That's the big difference. Southern Hills is a course that requires long shots and accurate ones. A player who strays off the fairways is due for trouble even though the bermuda grass rough was cut down to a four-inch depth for the tournament.

Golfers who have played with the 218-pound slugger from Southern Pines, N. C., during the past few days say Boros has been shooting some of the finest golf of his career and has the kind of game that is just suited to the Southern Hills course.

About a half dozen players in the 162-man field scheduled to start play today were rated even with Boros.

There's Ben Hogan, who is shooting for an unprecedented fifth National Open; long hitting Cary Middlecoff, who has taken the title twice and lost a playoff last year to Dick Mayer; and a flock of former winners with Mayer at the head of the list.

Tommy Ritter of Wyoming, Ohio, was the first Ohioan to tee off.

He was followed by Jovett T. Schwab of Dayton, Bob Hamrick Brown of Cincinnati, Pat Schwab of Dayton, Bob Hamrick

Chows, Grocers Open Minor Loop

Gifford and Stemple Give Chows Triumph

Delayed and delayed by wind and weather, the Little Minor Leaguers finally got to play ball Wednesday night — halfway.

The Purina Chows trumped the Helfrich Grocers 14-13 in an extra-inning contest at Armbrust Field which, though it was scheduled as an ordinary midweek game, served as the minor league opener.

Another game, scheduled to open the season, at Wilson Field, was cancelled because of the weather. It seems that second base at Wilson Field, until Thursday morning at least, was reachable only by rowboat, and the Chows-Grocers contest was the sole attraction on the Wednesday Little League docket.

After a couple of high-scoring innings, the two teams settled down to the businesslike matter of playing ball with calm and style. Billy Noel of the Chows tightened up on their pitching as the game moved into its middle innings, and finally succeeded in going all the way.

Stevie Stemple was the big gun for the Chows with two triples, a single and a walk.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

Button's Best Of Coon Canines

QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—Coon hounds from three states competed in a contest held by the Adams County Coon Hunters club and they must know that "Buttons," owned by Harry Hinds, is quite a hound.

Among 110 dogs, "Buttons," from Palmyra, Mo., won the first tree race as well as the first line race.

In the tree race, a tame coon is placed in a tree and the first dog to reach the tree wins. The dogs were released a mile and a quarter away.

In the line race the dogs must run between two takes set in the field. A course for the dogs to run is made by dragging a sack scented with oil from coon hides.

Polio Shots Required

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—Inoculation against polio has been made an entrance requirement for kindergarten and first grade school pupils here.

Tribe Infield Woes Mount With Injuries

BALTIMORE (AP)—Remember Abbott and Costello's old comedy routine about "Who's on first. What's on second, and I Don't know who's on third?"

That is the predicament facing Cleveland Manager Bobby Bragan after Billy Harrell suffered a pulled thigh muscle in the Tribe's 7-4 loss to the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night. He may not be able to play until next week.

Harrell, who has been playing good ball at shortstop, became the third member of the infield to be sidelined. With second baseman Bobby Avila also suffering a pulled thigh muscle, and first baseman Vic Wertz, a broken ankle, the Indians now are reduced to only four infielders. They are Mickey Vernon at first, Billy Moran at second, Chico Carrasquel at short, and Preston Ward, normally a first sacker, holding down the third base spot.

If things get any worse in the injury department, Bragan could use either J. W. Porter or Rocky Colavito at first, or outfielder Gary Geiger at third.

In Wednesday night's game — in which Geiger, incidentally, was used as a pitcher for two innings—Baltimore scored five runs on five hits off starter and loser Dick Tomaneck and Bob Lemon in the fourth inning. That wrapped up the game for all intents and purposes. Baltimore won 7-4.

The Indians led 1-0 going into the Baltimore fourth. Then the roof fell in on Tomaneck, who had permitted only a single hit up until that point. A walk was followed by five singles.

With the score 5-1, Geiger came in to hurl in the seventh frame, making his major league debut as a pitcher, although he started at that position in the minor leagues. He gave up two runs.

Golden Age

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—Walter A. Todd, 64, can't give up working.

Todd retired in March as head of Hawaii County automotive and equipment division after working for the county for 44 years. Now, he offers to work without pay if the county will give him back his job.

"You have to do something," says Todd. "I enjoy fishing and hunting, but there's a limit to that."

SPECIAL

FRIDAY & SATURDAY ONLY

Hundreds of people in Washington C. H. are praising this wonderful product of nature for what it has done for them. This Arrow Root is made from 12 of the best herbs that grow in America, and is compounded by a man that knows how to blend herbs to get the results that the body needs. This preparation has been in one family for over 80 years. If you are nervous, weak, and run down, you owe it to yourself to get a bottle. Should you be constipated, it is because you do not throw enough bile into your stomach to digest your food. When undigested food gets in the lower bowel, it is dry and hard, but if your food is properly digested when it gets in the lower bowel, it will be lubricated, with natural juices of the stomach and will properly digest your food and you will not have to depend on laxatives of any kind. Remember that properly digested food does not cause gas in the stomach. Only undigested food causes gas and nervousness. Get a bottle of Indian Arrow Root to-day, and if you are not satisfied, return the empty bottle to your druggist, and he will refund your money to you. For sale by all druggists.

TAKE THIS AD TO YOUR DRUGGIST FRIDAY OR SATURDAY AND HE WILL GIVE YOU A REGULAR $2.00 BOTTLE FREE WITH THE PURCHASE OF ONE $2.00 BOTTLE.

Those Bums Look Like Bums Again; Umpire Is Jawed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Those Dodgers at last look like Dodgers. A batter gets tossed out of the game for jawin' at the plate, a runner scores from second on a two-run sacrifice fly. Don Drysdale, their young ace, finally has a complete game victory to go with eight defeats.

Except for being in last place, things are almost normal. Drysdale, the 21-year-old right-hander, went all the way for a 7-4 victory over the Phils Wednesday night, giving up nine hits, but striking out six and allowing only two earned runs.

Milwaukee, meanwhile, regained the National League lead as the Braves ended their longest losing streak since 1956 at 5 games with a 10-7 victory over the Chicago Cubs. San Francisco slipped to second, .005 percentage points behind, as the Pittsburgh Pirates breezed in on Frank Thomas' seven runs batted in for a 14-6 victory and the Giants' fourth loss in a row.

The St. Louis Cardinals took third, three games behind, with a 3-2, 12-inning victory over Cincinnati.

A four-run third inning did the job for Drysdale, now 3-8, and the Dodgers, once more just a half-game behind the seventh place Phils. The two-run sacrifice fly was a 420-foot smack by Carl Furillo with the bases loaded. Richie Ashburn took it over his shoulder in center field, but by the time he got back within sight of the plate, Pee-wee Reese was across it after a dash from second base.

Charlie Nea was tossed out for arguing a 2-1 pitch. He was the first Dodger to be ejected in Los Angeles, and Johnny Podres became No. 2 seconds later for his bellowing from the bench.

Ken Boyer's leadoff 11th homer won it for the Cards in the 12th, ending a four-inning shutout relief duel between winner Morrie Martin (2-1) and Redleg Hal Jeffcoat (3-3). Frank Robinson drove in both Redlegs, one with his fourth homer for a 2-2 tie in the seventh.

Thomas celebrated his 29th birthday by taking the home run lead with a pair, one a grand slam, and also gaining the RBI lead. His second homer, No. 19, was his second bases-loaded shot in the majors, both off the Giants (the first was April 23, 1953), and gave the Pirates a 10-2 lead in the second inning. Vern Law won his sixth with relief help while Ruben Gomez (5-5) lost it.

The Braves blew a 5-0 lead, but nailed it with three in the seventh off losing reliever Don Elston (6-4). Unbeaten Ernie Johnson won his third in relief. Joe Adcock hit his sixth grand slam homer in the Braves' first. Andy Pafko drove in three runs for Milwaukee, singling home the tie breaker in the seventh.

Bill Norman had a pretty simple plan for arousing the Detroit Tigers in his managerial debut. "This is too good a club to be lost," he told 'em. So they went out and jumped clear of the American League cellar by sweeping a doubleheader at Boston, where they hadn't won since last year.

The Tigers came alive with 13 hits in each half of the afternoon-night pair. Frank Lary ended the Red Sox' winning string at six with a five-hit shutout, 7-0. Then Billy Martin hit two home runs in one game for the first time in the majors for a 9-3 success Wednesday night.

The first place New York Yankees upped their lead to 9½ games again, using hits and breaks for a 10-2 and 2-1 sweep over second place Kansas City. Don Larsen won his ninth in a row over two seasons in the opener and once-beaten Bob Turley became the first to win 10 in the majors in the nightcap.

Washington plunked the Chicago White Sox into the cellar, 5-2; and Baltimore rapped Cleveland 7-4. Frank Malzone had six of Boston's 13 hits for the day, including three doubles. He was 4-for-4 in the second game.

Brooks Robinson drove in three runs with two singles for the Orioles, who bagged it with five runs in the fourth. Milt Pappas won his third but tired and left after six innings. Dick Manek (2-3) was the loser.

Russ Kemmerer (3-3) beat the White Sox with a six-hit, retiring the last 14 in order as the Senators took fourth place. Three runs in the second did it against Bill Fischer (2-3), with Neil Chrissy's triple scoring a pair.

The Yankees clubbed 14 hits in the opener, including Tony Kuback's first homer and Yogi Berra's ninth, then won the second game when reliever Virgil Trucks walked four men and forced a run home in the ninth with two out. Turley had a two-hit shutout for seven in a nightcap duel with Ralph Terry, whose scoreless string ended at 19 innings when the Yankees scored in the seventh.

Washington plunked the Chicago White Sox into the cellar, 5-2; and Baltimore rapped Cleveland 7-4. Frank Malzone had six of Boston's 13 hits for the day, including three doubles. He was 4-for-4 in the second game.

Brooks Robinson drove in three runs with two singles for the Orioles, who bagged it with five runs in the fourth. Milt Pappas won his third but tired and left after six innings. Dick Manek (2-3) was the loser.

Russ Kemmerer (3-3) beat the White Sox with a six-hit, retiring the last 14 in order as the Senators took fourth place. Three runs in the second did it against Bill Fischer (2-3), with Neil Chrissy's triple scoring a pair.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It was just the way the ball bounced—fast and hard off Ken Boyer's bat all the way into the left field bleachers—that put the Cincinnati Redlegs back in fourth place today after 12 innings of play Wednesday night that ended in a 3-2 St. Louis victory.

Boyer's first-pitch homer ended not only a classy relief duel between Redleg Hal Jeffcoat and Morrie Martin, but top-notch defensive fielding on the part of both teams. The Cardinals collected 13 hits—until Boyer's round-tripper—but exactly that number of men were left stranded.

The Redlegs got down to business in the second when George Crowe doubled to left. He was singled home by Frank Robinson.

St. Louis evened matters in the back half of the same frame. Del Ennis doubled and scored on Hal Smith's single to center. In the fifth, the Cards went one-up as Curtis Flood singled and was forced by Smith. Smith was sacrificed along by Jones and scored on Don Blasingame's single to center.

Robinson kept Redlegs hopes alive with his fourth homer of the season in the seventh, to tie the score at 2-2, until Boyer unloaded his bleacher-pole with one out in the 12th.

The victory gave St. Louis possession of third place.

The teams wind up their current series tonight, with Brooks Lawrence (3-3) pitted against Larry Jackson (4-2) or Vinegar Bend Mizell (3-5).

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs Wednesday signed Paul Umberg, a hard-hitting outfielder who helped Cincinnati Elder win the Ohio Class AA baseball championship this year.

Umberg, 18, was signed to a contract with Nashville of the Southern Association and then was assigned to Geneva, N. Y., of the Class A New York-Pennsylvania.

Crouse Clubs First Homer In New Park

The big bat of Gil Crouse almost unassisted clubbed the Gorton Polar Bears into submission Wednesday night, and gave the Seals a clean-cut 8-3 victory in their belated opening game.

Crouse hit home run No. 1 from the new Rossmann Park in the third inning as he led his team to victory—and then, to prove it was no fluke, hit home run No. 2 in the sixth. A double added to that total gave him an aggregate of six RBIs for the evening.

Jack Campbell and Butch Reiber shared Crouse's total of three hits in four trips to the plate, and each also scored one run. With the aid of his two homers, Crouse scored three times.

Buck Jones went the route on the mound for the Seals, giving up eight hits, five walks and five strikeouts. His opponent, Pete Evans, gave up eight hits, three strikeouts and seven walks, while Evans' reliever, Ed Juillerat, gave up three hits, a walk and one strikeout.

Juillerat was the big bat in his team's attack, clubbing out three singles in three trips to the plate. Charles Wright had two for four.

1,233 Acres Eyed As Hunting Areas

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Wildlife Council has taken option on 1,233 acres of hunting land with purchase subject to release of funds by the State Controlling Board. Total cost would be $72,359.

Here's the breakdown, with acreage: Cooper Hollow, Jackson County, 125 acres; Indian Run, Brown County, 50; Killdeer Plains, Wyandot County, 90; Rush Run, Preble County, 100; Tranquility, Adams County, 13; Grand River, Trumbull County, 104; Wolf Creek, Morgan County, 81.

In addition, three of the approved tracts are within state forests and will be purchased with funds derived from the sale of deer licenses. They are Pike Forest, 411 acres; Shade River Forest, 60, and Shawnee Forest, 200.

Feature Hilliards Pace Is Divided

COLUMBUS (AP)—Chief Good Friday and Scottish Rhythm split one half of the Pocahontas Pace and Dandy Byrd won the other half of the feature at the Hilliards Raceway harness racing opener Wednesday night.

The opening, originally scheduled for Tuesday, was set back a night because of rain.

Chief Good Friday, a 5-1 shot, won the first heat of the first division of the Pocahontas by about four lengths, then was edged by Scottish Rhythm in the second heat.

In the second division, Dandy Byrd edged Decor in both heats.

Neil Chrissy, who has been hitting home runs for the Washington Senators, hit 15 in 114 games with Indianapolis in 1957.

Course 'Slow,' Scores Good On Ladies Day

Although the Country Club course was made soft and "slow" by recent rains, scores turned in during Wednesday's ladies day golfing were described as "very good" by Tony Capuana, the club pro.

Mrs. Willard McLean, one of the top golfers of the feminine contingent here, set the pace again with an actual score of 50. Closest behind were Mrs. Wayne Shobe with 55 and Mrs. William Junk with 56.

Competition for putting honors was much closer. Miss Kristin Himmelsbach led with 14 strokes on the greens. Mrs. Neil Helfrich was next with 15 and then came Mrs. Junk, Mrs. Ralph Bray, Mrs. Mary Gillespie and Mrs. Shobe with 16 apiece.

Mrs. Junk and Mrs. Bray tied for the low net score (actual less handicap) with 41s.

Mrs. Helfrich had the most five of them—and Mrs. Omar Schwartz won the blind bogey.

Other net scores were Mrs. Gillespie 51; Mrs. Roscoe Shipley 43; Mrs. Ray French 51; Mrs. Charles Griffiths 44; Mrs. Max Lawrence 51; Mrs. Scott Harner 47; Mrs. Byers Shaw 51; Mrs. Robert Link 43; Mrs. Roger Littleton 51; Mrs. Richard R. Willis Sr. 50; Mrs. J. O. Garringer 49; Mrs. Schwartz 55; Mrs. Helfrich 44; Mrs. Marvin Rossmann 45 and Mrs. Paul Pennington 46.

Hostesses for the luncheon after the morning of golf were Mrs. French and Mrs. Link.

Ladies day next week will be on Thursday, instead of Wednesday, because the district dental society is having its annual meeting at the Country Club here on Wednesday. Hostesses will be Mrs. Griffiths and Mrs. Harner.

Teen-Ager, Champ To Vie in Tourney

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—The defending champion, Mrs. James Ferrie, who turned in Wednesday's only par-beating performance, and 17-year-old Sherry Wheeler led the way today into the quarterfinals of the 28th annual Women's Trans-Mississippi golf tournament.

Sherry, of Glasgow, Ky., took on Mrs. Ferrie of Gardena, Calif.

First of Park Dances Set for Friday Night

Everything is in readiness for the first of the summer series of dances at the community park on Millikan Ave. Friday night, Fred Domenico and Marvin Merritt, co-directors of the summer recreation program here, said Thursday.

The dances will be held every Friday night, except during Fair week and on July 4.

The dances — half square and half ballroom — will start at 9 p. m. and continue until midnight on the blacktop court with recorded music. Clarence McDermott of Wilmington will be the "caller" for the square dances again this season.

Remembering how crowded the 50 by 100 foot court was for most of the dances last summer, Domenico and Merritt said they had made arrangements for a loudspeaker to take the music to the shelter house for the overflow this year.

Crowds of more than 1,000 at the dances last summer were not uncommon, Domenico recalled. "There were times," he said, "when as many as 15 sets of square dancers were on the court at one time." And, he added, "the ballroom type of dancing had just as much appeal as the square dancing."

THE DANCES are set up as family affairs, just as they were last year, when parents and their sons and daughters spent the evening having a good time together.

In case of rain, Domenico said, the dances will be postponed.

Each dance will have a sponsor, as last year, to underwrite the expenses. The sponsors each week have the soft drink and popcorn stand to help raise expense money. Sponsors for Friday's dance will be the Washington C. H. High School Athletic Assn.

Maple Grove Church To Have Bible School

Next week the Sugar Grove and New Martinsburg Methodist Churches will sponsor a Bible School at the Sugar Grove Church, with Mrs. Wesley Thatcher, the director.

Classes for nursery, beginners, primary, juniors and teen-agers are scheduled. Classes held from 9 until 11:30 a. m. will start Monday and continue until Saturday, June 21. The Rev. Harold Huges will lead the Bible School in choruses, devotions and stories.

Theme for the school is "We Worship the Lord," Mrs. Thatcher said. She will be assisted by teachers Mrs. Harold Huges, Mrs. Richard Miller, Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. Nelson Smalley and Mrs. June Salyer. Mrs. Eldon Bethards is in charge of the refreshments. Other women of both churches will assist.

For transportation the Sugar Grove Sunday School bus will run its route each morning.

Closing program for the week-long Bible School is June 22 at 8 p. m.

County Jail Prisoner Treated for Hand Cuts

A county jail prisoner was taken to Memorial Hospital Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Mickle for medical attention.

Charles Maynard, in jail awaiting trial on forgery charges, suffered cuts around his hands from broken glass and was taken to Memorial Hospital for medical attention Wednesday at 10 p. m., the sheriff's department said.

Maynard, indicted by grand jury, is scheduled for trial Monday.

CASE SETTLED

A Scioto County damage case to which Fayette County Common Pleas Judge John P. Case had been assigned was settled Wednesday while the local jurist was en route to Portsmouth.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weyand has requested Judge Case to return to Portsmouth June 20 for trial of an action filed by a church group seeking authority to sell real estate.

Fayette County Woman Top Award in State Sewing Contest

Though not an entrant from a Grange in Fayette County, a Fayette County woman won a first place in the state with her entry in the National Grange $50,000 sewing contest.

Mrs. Howard Junk Route 6, will receive a $72 bracelet wrist watch and jewelry set for taking one of the three first places in the adult sewing division. Three first place awards were presented because Granges around the state entered more than 11,500 garments in the state judging.

Mrs. Junk is a member of Concord Grange in Ross County.

Fayette County had two entries in state judging—Mrs. Virgil Dwyer of 434 E. Paint St., in the adult division, and Linda Forsythe, sponsored by the Good Hope Grange, in the youth division. There was no county entry in the junior division in the staff competition.

State winner in the adult division was Mrs. H. E. Schumacher, Akron. Ann Bouton, 15, Knox County, won "best of show" and first in the youth division with her entry. Janet Cartwright, 12, Brunswick, sponsored by a member of a Medina County Grange, won first place in the junior division.

Two in Family To Be Graduated

MISS NANCY SCHLUE

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. (Bud) Schlue have two reasons for attending the Ohio State University commencement Friday afternoon in the stadium. Their daughter, Miss Nancy Schlue (above) will receive her certificate of graduate dental hygienist and their son-in-law, Robert Specht of Columbus (husband of their daughter Emily) will receive his degree from the College of Dentistry.

Miss Nancy Schlue, a 1955 graduate of Washington C. H. High School, was enrolled in the university's College of Arts and Sciences her first year and then transferred to the College of Dentistry for the next two years. She plans to take a position with a dentist in Western Hill, a Cincinnati suburb.

Specht will enter the military service in the near future and Mrs. Specht and their daughter plan to stay with her parents here at least until her husband completes his basic training.

Right-to-Work Backers Say Issue Is Cinch for Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The so-called right-to-work issue will have the necessary signatures to put it on the Nov. 4 ballot, Frank J. Egner, chairman of Ohioans for Right to Work, Inc., predicted Wednesday.

"We are nearing the halfway mark on the 354,200 signatures needed," he said. "For the first time, our progress—in the past 10 days—has put me in a position to predict with confidence that we will have the needed signatures by Aug. 1."

Aug. 5 is the filing deadline to put the constitutional amendment proposal on the ballot.

Egner, a Findlay transport company executive, said there have been attempts to intimidate petition circulators but that these have stimulated rather than retarded the campaign.

Egner's statement listed several incidents involving circulators, together with affidavits attesting to the following:

A woman circulator was told by two union leaders to stop circulating the petition. When she refused, she was told:

"All right, we may not stop you from circulating the petition. But you have two children; we can get to them."

Trucker Pays Two Fines In Sabina Mayor's Court

Maynard W. Carr, 49, Washington C. H., was picked up by the state Highway Patrol on charges of overloading his truck and failure to have a chauffeur's license.

Arrested at the Melvin Scales for driving an 1,170-pound overweight truck Carr paid $25 and costs in Mayor Hill's court in Sabina. On the failure to have a license Carr paid $50 and costs in the same court.

Rev. H. B. Twining Now at Convention

The Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church, left Thursday to attend the American Baptist Convention in Cincinnati.

During his absence Sunday, the pulpit of the First Baptist Church will be filled by the Rev. J. Oscar White of North Jampoton.

The sessions of the convention are scheduled for the Cincinnati Gardens. This is the first such convention in the Ohio area. Among the speakers will be Charles P. Taft, lay leader of the National and World Council of Churches and the former mayor of Cincinnati.

A convention highlight will be the candlelight service at which new missionaries are dedicated. Theme of the convention that lasts until Tuesday is "Entrusted with the Gospel."

Other official delegates from the church here are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Chaney, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reno.
